Electronic access to your thesis

I hereby authorise The University of Edinburgh to publish the electronic version of this thesis online via the Edinburgh Research Archive (ERA) for scholarly purposes and with proper acknowledgement of authorship. Please tick one of the following three main options:

☐	I request that my thesis be Open Access. Theses made open access will be freely available via the internet and will be retrievable via Google and other search services.
	☐ In addition I would like my thesis to be made available to others using a Creative Commons Attribution-Non Commercial-Share Alike Licence.
☐	I request that no access of any kind be permitted to the electronic version of this thesis for one year, commencing from date of graduation.
	Access must be restricted because: ☐ The thesis contains information provided in confidence (e.g. patient confidentiality). ☐ Releasing the thesis would cause substantial prejudice to commercial interests (e.g. patent applications). ☐The thesis contains information about research in progress where there is an intention to publish at a later date.

After one year the thesis will be made open access via ERA. Before the thesis is released we will attempt to contact you via the email address given on the front of this form. If necessary the embargo period can be repeated.

☐	I have separately requested an embargo to the hard copy so the electronic copy must be restricted for the same duration
